SILENCES AT MASS

Pauses for silence allow God's word to seep into us at Mass; once grown accustomed to they become personally precious. So when the reader allows a pause they haven't lost their place; rather they are allowing Christ present to touch our ears and hearts. St Augustine considered the presence of Christ on the altar and in the Word as equivalent. He preached often on Christ present in the Word.

St Augustine (354-430)

Aurelius Augustine, born in Souk Ahras in present-day Algeria, was from 44 to 76 bishop of the coastal city of Hippo. The Arab peoples of Algeria speak of their Augustine with great pride; civic monuments commemorate him in Souk Ahras. Augustine published 114 books, two of which are paperbacks in our bookshops: Confessions and City of God.

His prayer words:

'My prayers are often wounded and weakened by fog and the confusion of worldly affairs.'
 'I love you Lord with no uncertain love; you pierced my heart and I fell in love with you.'

His teaching words:

'God will be for you everything that you love.'
 'The person who will not have peace with others will not have it at all.'

His personal struggle with overeating:

'What is sufficient for health is not sufficient for enjoyment!'
